

Rent part of our office!

Do you have between 4-6 people in your organisation? And are you working with either Advanced Analytics, Big Data, Social Media, Graphic design or the like? Then you might be the small business or startup company Userneeds is looking for to rent part of our spacious office on Købmagergade 60 - just a two minute walk from Nørreport station.

As business incubator, we want to help a startup company to develop by providing office space as well as a culture of knowledge sharing.

Who are we?

Userneeds is a market research company with large consumer panels in Denmark, Sweden, Norway, Finland, Ireland and Switzerland. The size of the panels gives us a unique opportunity to run surveys among specific population segments and thus provide our clients with insights into valuable and instantly usable information about their specific target group.

Does a company full of analysts not seem appealing to you? Well hold your horses because Userneeds' employees are extremely social, keep an informal tone and enjoy a flat organizational structure where everyone feels welcome.

What are we looking for?

We are looking for a group of people that, just like us, are professional and dedicated with high work ethics but who simultaneously enjoy a beer on a Friday afternoon after a busy weeks' work. We support start-ups in all areas such as Advanced Analytics, Big Data, AI, Machine Learning, Social Media, Graphic design etc. and who knows – we might even be able to help each other out, inspire one another or share ideas across the table at lunch.

In fact, one of the main reasons Userneeds is renting out part of our office is to create a knowledge sharing culture that enables an effective collaboration and communication between us and the organisation moving in.

What is in it for you?

The office space we provide is newly renovated, bright and spacious. It is also located in the heart of Copenhagen, however, the very best part of it all is that your organisation will get a unique opportunity to work side by side with talented analysts and consultants from Userneeds. The aim of this incubation is to learn from one another and also create a platform from where we can benefit from each other's skills and creativity.

The practical:

- You will be joining Userneeds' 50 employees at an office which is bright, spacious and open
- Free wifi and coffee is included (lunch can be bought for an additional fee)
- The rent will be fairly settled as a result of the mutual gains of the cooperation.
- Send your application to apply@userneeds.com no later than February 1, 2019
- Any questions? Don't hesitate to call Johnny Jensen on +4540834028 or send an e-mail to joj@userneeds.com
